Extreme fishing to living the dream

How do you go from running bespoke salmon fishing trips to the Kola Peninsula in Russia, taking fly fishers to some of the remotest places on earth to the tranquillity of East Yorkshire and owning a smokehouse?

In 2007 Justin and his wife Georgia moved from the south of England to his wife's family farm in search of a dream. The dream would encompass their passion for food and at the same time add diversity to the existing farm enterprises.

It was during his travels that Justin saw at first-hand how people all over the world smoked and cured various meats, game and fish, from curing Ptarmigan in Iceland to hot smoked King Salmon in Alaska.

After extensive research Justin and Georgina opened the doors of Staal Smokehouse in November 2011.

They, like others, at our Hovingham Market have a passion for excellent quality and adhering to traditional techniques that have evolved and been perfected over hundreds of years.

Since opening Staal Smokehouse have won many awards and we are delighted that Justin and Georgina have been regulars at the Market for many years.
